

CONTAVA Inc. Recognized as an Internet of Things Connected Safety and Security Specialized Partner from Cisco in Canada

Edmonton, Alberta, Canada – March 18th, 2015] – CONTAVA Inc. announced today that it has achieved the Internet of Things (IoT) Connected Safety and Security Specialization from Cisco. The specialization recognizes CONTAVA Inc. as having fulfilled the training requirements and program prerequisites to sell, deploy and support Cisco® IoT Connected Safety and Security products and solutions.

The Cisco IoT Connected Safety and Security Specialization enables partners to design, resell, install and maintain video surveillance and access control solutions that fit their customers' security needs.

“At CONTAVA we excel at delivering complex, enterprise class physical security systems, and have relied on Cisco switching and routing products for years to enable these solutions. It is with great anticipation that we enter into a new relationship with Cisco, allowing us to deliver this enterprise class platform to meet Physical Security and the IOT field data aggregation and collection needs. From the beginning, our passion to deliver and focus on making a difference in customers' environments has resonated with our friends at Cisco, and we are very excited for the opportunity to grow this valuable relationship.” - David Sime, VP Engineering and Delivery, CONTAVA

To earn the IoT Connected Safety and Security Specialization, CONTAVA fulfilled Cisco training and exam requirements. CONTAVA also met the personnel and post-sales support requirements set forth by Cisco.

The IoT Connected Safety and Security Specialization is part of the Cisco Channel Partner Program. The program provides partners with the training and technical expertise they need to sell Cisco products and solutions.

The Internet of Things

The Cisco Internet of Things (IoT) platform is inspiring a new breed of intelligent applications. Without starting from scratch, businesses can integrate disparate machines, devices and networks with a high degree of security. The connection of devices, machines and things allows you to dynamically generate, analyze and communicate intelligence data, increase operational efficiencies, and power new and greatly improved business models.

About CONTAVA Inc.

CONTAVA is a physical security integrator focused on delivering enterprise class solutions to organizations with the most complex and demanding needs to protect their people, assets, and reduce their risk exposure.
